The viewer 118 executes on the host computer 104 to provide a graphical user interface for the system 102. In the illustrative embodiment, the viewer 118 provides a system Web site, an example of which is located at address [www.biddersedge.com]. At the system Web site, the viewer provides a plurality of Web pages that enable a shopper to monitor and participate in auction activity occurring at a plurality of auction sites. The viewer 118 includes foreground process software that detects signals from the shopper access devices 108a-108d. Preferably, a shopper enters requests at a shopper access device 108a-108d by way of a mouse or keypad. The viewer 118 detects the requests and responds by displaying the requested information.

The pages created by the viewer 118 each provide different information to a shopper. Accordingly, the viewer 118 also enables shoppers to navigate between each of the available pages. Briefly, the GUI pages generated by the viewer 118 include a page navigation menu bar, near the top of each page, which allows the shopper to directly navigate to any of the other viewer pages. When a shopper logs into the Web site of the illustrative embodiment, the viewer 118 displays a Home page to the shopper. The shopper interacts with the search engine 120 from a plurality of the pages generated by the viewer 118. An illustrative Home page, along with other illustrative GUI pages generated by the viewer 118 are discussed in further detail below with respect to FIGURES 6-12.

In response to a shopper's command, the viewer 118 can invoke the search engine 120 to query the database 106 for items associated with a particular item category and/or keyword expression. Alternatively, the viewer 118 can invoke the site access facilitator 122 to enable the shopper to directly access and participate in a particular auction site
